

A HUSBAND'S SEX IN DISPUTE.

The Matrimonial Mixtures and Mystery in Waukesha, Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 31.—The developments in the Waukesha matrimonial mixture continue to be the one topic of conversation, but they show no motive for Mrs. Hudson's eccentric escapade, unless her object was to hide her identity. It seems improbable that the girl, Gertrude Fuller, could have been ignorant of the facts; but that these two women were actually married by a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel under the roof of the bride's mother and in the presence of the bride's family and friends, and that for a period of eight months they had lived together as man and wife, have appeared in public, and some very acquaintance of the neighborhood as to the real condition of things, stand as facts.

Frank Dubois (Mrs. Hudson) and his (her) wife and sister have gone to Brandon. The husband has given up his residence, and some people refusing to believe that the young wife could have been deceived by the sex of her husband is that she at least was the victim of the trick. Frank Dubois' wife, Mrs. Hewitt, who has repeatedly declared that Dubois is a man, may have been deceived by the husband's trick, but it is difficult to imagine that Mrs. Dubois as Frank Dubois, in order to shield her from suspicion regarding her sex, is the only one equipped to accomplish man's work. Mrs. Hudson's wife and one and the same person. If it be a fact, and few here doubt it, the marriage is the only thing that has remained to him. Frank Dubois, however, Dubois, although doing work of all kinds, had a short, stout, womanish figure, and a walk hardly to be called manly. The eyes are supposed to be in Brandon at present, the wife and her sister having left yesterday to join the husband with the intention of bringing him home to prove his sex.

Hudson first obtained a clue to his wife's whereabouts through an anonymous letter, which he had received from former friends in the law, now residing here. Gertrude claims that Hudson is a shifftless good-for-nothing, who has got into difficulties, and got into them, but that rather than have the man and his children quartered on her for the winter, she has skinned out. While in Fond du Lac, Mrs. Hudson's husband, Frank Dubois, was known to have hired livery rigs and driven off attired in men's clothes, presumably to prosecute her courtship. Hudson's wife and son, William, who it is reported sought to find the strangely mated couple were traced to Brandon, where they spent one day, and then disappeared, fearing to be discovered. Hudson's gossip from Waukesha is that Hudson will swear out warrant for the arrest of his wife.

A Young Woman's Sudden Death.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Eliza Hudock, aged 16, the daughter of a farmer, was found dead in the Schellin Canal on Tuesday night at Monroe, ten miles from here. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning, but later developments led many to believe that the girl was foully dealt with. Her body was found floating in the canal, and it was conjectured that she was entombed by Hungarian railroad workers and thrown into the water.

Firing a Volley into a Crowded Show Tent.

KINGSLAND, Ark., Oct. 31.—Last night, at New Edinburgh, during the performances of Hunter's consolidated shows, some unknown parties from outside fired a volley of shots into the main exhibition hall, killing a woman and wounding several others. The shots were crowded and the ladies passed through all parts of the audience. Captain Hunter, who directed the first performance, was shot in the head, and died after being carried to the hospital. Dr. W. C. Hixson, surgeon, and Dr. J. G. Edwards, also assisted.
